

Meet the Sapling teacher

Hi I'm Teacher Madi! I'm a recently graduated Evergreen student. I grew up in Cle Elum, Washington and made the move to Olympia when I started my education journey. I'm now pursuing my Masters in Teaching, with a specific focus on English and Literature. I'm a total bookworm, and have also written short stories and poetry. Creativity is essential to my every day life, whether it's painting, collaging, photography, and everything crafty! I love incorporating that into a classroom setting. My favorite part about living in this area is the community that I've been able to find here, especially in relation to childcare. I've worked with multiple local families and have had the privilege of connecting with so many wonderful kids and parents in the area! I believe that parents are genuinely superheroes and am so grateful to be working in a center that prioritizes parents input and involvement with their child's education. I'm looking forward to fostering more connections within this community and providing only the best for the kiddos I have the honor of working with.
